("Tristel" or the "Company" or the "Group")

CFO succession planning

Tristel plc (AIM: TSTL), the manufacturer of infection prevention products, announces that Liz Dixon, Chief Financial Officer ("CFO"), has confirmed to the Board her intention to retire from the business on 30 June 2025.

A process to appoint a new CFO is well underway and the Board has been pleased with the quality of candidates showing an interest in the position. A further announcement will be made in due course.

Bruno Holthof, Chair of the Tristel Board, commented: "On behalf of the Company I would like to offer my thanks to Liz for her contribution to the business over the years. Liz has been involved with Tristel since July 2007 when she joined as Group Chief Accountant, before becoming Finance Director of our main trading subsidiary in August 2009, and ultimately joining the Board in June 2010. She played a critical role in securing market access to North America and has positioned Tristel very well for continued profitable growth."

Matt Sassone, Chief Executive Officer of Tristel, commented: "Since Liz joined Tristel, the company has grown considerably, and Liz has played a pivotal role in that success. In addition to supporting the operational side of the business, she has been instrumental in driving our commercial performance and built a robust, capable finance team—ensuring we are well-positioned for the continued expansion we anticipate in the years ahead."

"It has been a pleasure to work with Liz over the last nine months, and I am grateful that due to her stewardship I have joined a business with a very strong financial position, and well-funded to deliver further organic commercial growth."

Liz Dixon, Chief Financial Officer of Tristel, commented: "Whilst I am very sad to be leaving Tristel after nearly 18 years, I do so happy in the knowledge that the business is well placed both financially and commercially for its next stage of growth under the leadership of Matt and the senior team."

"It has been a great pleasure to have been part of an amazing UK success story, and to see Tristel establish a leading position in the global infection prevention world. I wish the incredible Tristel team the very best and am confident that they will continue to deliver to our shareholders."
